

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the conclusions and suggestions of this research. In the first part, the researcher concludes the result of the research based on the previous chapters. Meanwhile, the second part presents the suggestions for especially for the English teacher, and for further researcher which is very useful to improve future research.

A. CONCLUSION

Based on the result of the research above, the conclusion can be the first is based on the observation checklist, the researcher knows how the procedure of using "Dream Book" media in teaching writing. The English teacher does the three activities included; pre activities, whilst activities, and end activities. Then, the English teacher used direct method. For the learner, they are very enjoying to writing because they can write with private media, namely "Dream Book".

The second is the calculating the data from SPSS 22 Pearson Product Moment, it is found out that the result of r-table calculated is 0,632 means smaller than the correlation coefficient equaled $r=0,764$. This value shows that there is correlation between the use of "Dream Book" and Motivation in Writing. Based on the r table of interpretation of r value, the result of r calculated (.764) is between 0,61 until 0,80. It means that the strength of correlation coefficient between two variables came in strong correlation. The result of analyzing the data significance 0.010 The hypothesis testing explained that $N. Sig > 0,05$ and for the result, the alternative hypothesis in this research can be accepted. It showed that both the use of "Dream Book" and Motivation in Writing were correlated. The alternative hypothesis which said, "There is correlation between the use of "Dream Book" and Motivation in Writing answered the research problem. Though, r showed strong correlation interpretation, but the result explained that the Motivation in Writing has positive influence on learner.

The third is based on open questionnaire from the student at SMA Raden Rahmat Balongbendo, the researcher knows how the learner motivation in writing by using "Dream Book" media. The learner can improve their vocabulary, improve their grammatical, improve their interest in writing, and can be developed creativity.

B. SUGGESTION

The researcher would like to propose some suggestion, especially for the English teacher, and for further researcher:

1. The Teachers

Effective classroom management is the most important skill to have as a teacher, improving the good classroom management by teacher in order to achieve the goal of teaching. To arising and increasing students' interest in joining English subject, the teacher must be creative, do not rely on textbook, and uses the media.

2. The Students

By using Dream book as media. The students are suggested to be better to write in English and can learn more in writing better than before from their mistakes in learning process.

3. The Next Researcher

The next researcher is suggested to learn from the weakness of this paper and make better research and gives contribution or the excellence of this paper as a reference.